

A collection of various industrial components including hoses, pipes, fittings, valves, and electrical enclosures. The items are arranged on a white background. There is a long, flexible black hose with a grey end fitting. A smaller black hose is also present. A coiled black hose is in the center. Several grey pipes of different diameters are shown. Various fittings, including elbows and tees, are scattered around. A pressure gauge with a black face and white markings is visible. There are also several metal clamps and a small metal plate. Two grey electrical enclosures are shown, one with a single port and another with multiple ports. A coiled grey cable with two connectors is in the top right.
